We are approaching the final stages toward promulgating designating sulfur dioxide nonattainment designations based on monitoring data showing violations. We sent "120-day letters" on February 6, 2013, which means that we are aiming to sign final designations on or soon after June 6, 2013. Between now and then, we will be participating in a national call with the air branch chiefs on May 7, a national video conference with the air division directors on May 9, and OAQPS plans a briefing with Janet McCabe on the designations shortly thereafter.
